REMINDER FROM FIELD STAFF

Some of our regional project managers in the RR Program would like to remind consultants about proper documentation of laboratory data:

- When completing chain of custody forms for data reports, be sure that all necessary information is provided. Sometimes the forms say "refer to file" or "refer to field notes" for information, but the relevant file or field notes are not included. Without these notes a chain of custody form filled out in this manner is incomplete.
- When contracting or sub-contracting for laboratory analysis, include a copy of the original lab analysis report if the data is going to be copied onto your own company's forms. In several cases we have found that there have been errors in copying the data onto new forms.

NEW TID EMAIL SERVICE FROM THE DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE

The Department of Revenue has established a new email service designed to provide Tax Increment Financing District (TID) information. This will include legislation, current reports, internet forms, local training and internet publications. Anyone may subscribe, but it will be of particular value to town, village & city clerks; assessors; planners and planning departments; mayors and presidents; and consultants. To subscribe, please click on <http://www.dor.state.wi.us/slf/dortid.html>.

REMINDER: GIS REGISTRY & BRRTS ON THE WEB WEEKEND OUTAGES

- September 24 to September 27, 2004, and
- October 8 to October 11, 2004.

The outages will run from 5:00 p.m. Friday to 8:00 a.m. Monday. We regret any inconvenience this may cause.
